“ When we were kids, I was always jealous of Brian, he was the goody-two-shoes, and always got the better toys at Christmas, that I broke when no one was looking. I recall one time when I broke the windup mechanism of two of the Mattels, and our father saying, Brian, I told you not to wind them so tight...But Dad, I didn't....

Then there was the time that Brian was six and I eleven and I got Brian so mad at me that he went out.and came back with a hammer and attempted to hit me with it, but the head flew off and broke the glass dining room table. When our dad came in, Brian tried to explain that his anger caused the mishap, all the while with me smirking in the background. But Dad.....

Our father made a large outdoor bird cage for Brian in which to raise his homing pigeons. I was jealous once again so one day when no one was looking I opened the cage door and scooted out the birds....and they were in such disarray.....right....never to return home. Dad said to Brian, I thought I told you to be more careful about securing the door. But Dad, I'm certain I closed and locked it....

When we were older Brian took a temporary job in Saudi Arabia, and left his Ford Fairlane with me for safe keeping. Right on, Dad said, Brian are you certain that's a good idea. Brian said, no concern Dad, Alan's my Brother....it's all good. Alan, what happend to the side of my car....

I miss my brother so much, he was and will contniue to be my younger brother... forever, and for certain he's waiting by the side of our father, both with several clarifying questions.

I love you, Brother. You are the best of the best!
