“ I remember when our house caught on fire, I didn't see my Mom break down and cry, what I do remember is that she worked harder and was stronger than ever, yes she got help from the family and we had a safe place to lay our heads. My Mom grew stronger and worked harder so that she could make sure my brother and I did not go a day without. I know in my heart that my Mother is in heaven giving God a run because she is willful strong and stubborn. I love you Mom.
