“ Me and Crysta Rene' Wright shared a child together. She was in my life for nearly 8 years, of which was the best memories in my life. My life and my son's life will never be the same without her. But the memories i have of her are beyond the memories most collect with their partner in life. We had tough times and tribulations. But she changed me. She turned me into a happier , more insightful person and taught me more about life than anyone else ever has or will. We loved each other so much, and one thing that no longer hurts but rather makes me smile and cry tears of joy, is looking into the inbox of my FB account and seeing our final messages sent to each other. She was the warmest, most caring, gentle ,loving, and one of the most motivated people ever born in human history. I still, and always will love you so much baby. I know you'll guide me and your son through these tough times and that you'll help our boy from falling into the wrong godless, evil, spiteful hands. Love you so much.....
