“ I wanted to share some things that I will always remember and smile about. You looked after Us girls. You were there in the background making sure we were safe. I won't ever forget the Easter baskets with stuffed animals every year. Delivered to the door step (only you,me, and Lisa know how funny that is now). All those years I thought I was really found in the dumpster...but you apologetically let me know that I was in fact your blood, I still giggle about that. That time when you visited Jason and I in California and teased me about cutting the tomatoes wrong and watching The Matrix. I still have the wedding gift you gave to Jason and I. There will never be anyone like you Uncle Jerry. Love you.
