

Mary Alice Campbell

July 29, 1935 - August 14, 2015

On the afternoon of Friday, August 14, 2015, Mary Alice Bass Campbell, 80, a long-time resident of Memphis, Tennessee, was peacefully sleeping when her Redeemer called her home. Born and raised in Chattanooga, Tennessee, Mary Alice married Fred O. Campbell, Jr., also of Chattanooga, in 1954. Their marriage lasted twenty-five years and produced three beautiful children. Mary Alice retired from Merck Pharmaceuticals in 1997, and spent time with her growing family and traveling. Mary Alice is survived by her sisters, Dean Moore of Ft. Oglethorpe, Georgia, and Ruth Forrest of Nashville; her children, Karen Oppenheim (husband David), Kim Davis (husband Bo), and Michael Campbell (wife Valerie); four grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her parents, Clarice and Norine Bass; her brother, Bill Bass; her former husband; and her great-granddaughter, Campbell Oppenheim.
