

Scott Kenyon Wright

February 1, 1961 - October 26, 2025

Scott Kenyon Wright, born February 1, 1961, passed away on October 26, 2025, at the age of 64.

Scott was a loving father, a gifted electrician, and a man whose laughter could brighten even the darkest day. He lived his life with a generous heart and an unshakable willingness to help others, no matter the circumstances. His hands built more than homes—they built memories, comfort, and strength for those who knew him.

He was full of dreams and determination, always chasing new goals with a spark that never faded. Those who knew him will remember his humor, his compassion, and his belief in doing right by others.

Scott is survived by his sons, Shawn Wright and William Wright, who will forever carry his love and lessons with them. He is also lovingly remembered by Connie Richee, his longtime companion, and her daughter Lily, whom he helped raise and cared for as his own.

Scott's presence brought warmth, laughter, and love into the lives of everyone around him. Though he is gone, his spirit lives on in the people he loved, the stories he shared, and the countless lives he touched. He will be deeply missed and forever remembered.
